APPEAL AGAINST JAIL SENTENCE SUSTAINED

The appeal of Lynn Wilson against the sentence of three months in jail for selling liquor, imposed by Magistrate Borden, was dismissed by Judge Simmonds, sustained the jail sentence and imposed a fine of $250.00.

The appeal was made under certiorari proceedings. W. J. O'Neal for the accused contend that evidence has not been introduced to show that a previous conviction had been obtained. The judge sustained this point.

The case was the result of a charge of selling liquor laid against Wilson by Corp. Wright. The case arose from a great deal of interest locally.

The jail sentence was imposed by the local magistrate because of a previous conviction, but this was not included in the evidence.

INDIANS WON'T RENEW LEASE OF COAL MINE

Lo, the poor Indian!—No longer are the Red Men under the classification of "untutored minds."

This statement prevails as far as financial matters are concerned.

The Blackfeet have decided that J. A. Balle, sub-lessee of the Buckskin coal mine, from which the bulk of Bassano's fuel supply has been produced for several years, has been making too much money.

The town's lease of the mine expires this month and the Indians have voted against renewing any profit that's going.

Indians Agent Godderham informed the town secretary of the result of the voting on Saturday last. It was a landslide against renewing the lease.

The Blackfeet close to the mine, who gain financially by peddling coal themselves adopted some of the propaganda methods of the whites and in the battle triplummed in favor of "the red route."

Bassano's will be an Indian town henceforth.

Agent Godderham, however, is endeavoring to get the Indians to secure an experienced manager for the mine, probably, for the aborigines are unskilled in taking out the coal. This will be one bright ray amid the gloom.

What the price of Indian coal this winter will be is hard to say. It depends upon the supply in town and the degree of need the Indian has for money.

GOVERNMENT ASSISTS HARD-HIT CATTLEMEN

Ottawa—The measures being taken by the government for the relief of the livestock industry, not only for industries by men, but for farmers or ranchers to keep their stock, but arrangements will be made for suitable compensation to great Britain.

It is pointed out here that when the United States market began to absorb Canadian cattle, cattle ships from Canada had to be sent to the United States route across the Atlantic. This deficiency will be supplied and provision made to take care of the trade. Hopes are still entertained that the embargo will be removed.

In the meantime, the advance to be made by the banks to cattlemen will be about $10,000,000, guaranteed by the government, which will be applied in furnishing either stock or fodder where either is lacking.

A conference was held at Ottawa this week between Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, and the bankers.

HANNA BUSINESSMEN INSPECT IRRIGATION

Bassano folks, meet a live bunch of citizens, members of the Hanna Board of Trade—A. M. Johnston, druggist; Robt. Stanley, hardware merchant; S. E. Robinson, lumberman; A. M. Gibb, merchant; J. H. Stephens, general merchant.

J. G. O'Dell, real estate; R. G. Fletcher, lumberman; W. J. Wining, farmer; H. G. McCrea, publisher.

This delegation drove over a humpbacked auto across country last Sunday to visit the Canadian Pacific railway irrigation block. Hanna district has been troubled with drought this year and the board of trade is out to see the workings of irrigation and boost for the North Saskatchewan project.

This north Saskatchewan scheme is no small calibre about five million acres and stuff. It is intended to water tentative estimates have fixed the cost at $100,000,000.

It may cost a billion, but Hanna's board of trade is going after it, along with the rest of the country.

What they saw in the irrigation block opened their eyes and some of the optics seemed blinds one of Don Barke's prize punkins.

Gen. Countess, Rosemary, Duchess, Brooks, Sutherland,

Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, minister of agriculture; C. A. Bogart, and Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, Sir John Alder, C. E. Nell, E. C. Pratt and J. P. Dell, officials of the Canadian government, and the present secretary of the Canadian beef committee, all of whom recognized that some special measures should be taken immediately for the protection of ranchers, cattle dealers, cattle dealers, and the restricted market and a pronounced reduction in the prices. Canadian cattle cannot be present at all.

As a result of the discussion that took place, assurance was given by the bankers that all reasonable credit will be extended to cattlemen who have losses against livestock, especially regarding to renewals, and that no undue pressure will be brought to bear for payments until a reasonable improvement has been made. This will appear in the market conditions will be all the more favorable to all districts.

and Millicent displayed the wealth of crops of all kinds that watering has accomplished. The visitors were astonished and delighted and hiked back home with a full load of information.

The crowd first came to Bassano and visited the giant dam that backs up the water in the Bow river, preparing the way for the irrigating of half a million acres. Then they came through the block and saw the results of the application of water for themselves. If there was a doubter among the crowd the said doubt were speedily removed.

The Mail congratulates this delegation of Hanna businessmen on their energy and enthusiasm in going after irrigation for their district.

They certainly deserve credit and here's luck to them.

Disarmament and the Individual Citizen

The outstanding question in world politics today is disarmament—the reaching of some international understanding which will put an end to the feverish race between nations to outdo each other in the raising and equipping of enormous armies, the construction of great navies, the inauguration of powerful aerial squadrons, and the development of chemical weapons. The actions of the United States, Canada, and with a cessation of such unhygienic and savage activities bring about an enormous lessening of the burden of taxation and the devotion of national revenues to the improvement of the physical and educational well-being of the people.

Everybody is concerned in the consummation of such an international understanding, but the average man and woman nevertheless look upon the problem as something to be left to the sole discretion and responsibility of Governments and statesmen. In a word, of those for the time being in authority in their respective countries. As a result, the average man and woman takes only an academic interest in this outstanding question, and proceeds daily to think, speak and act in a manner which operates to the elimination of the problem from their minds.

With the death of Czarism and the abdication of the Kaiser, the overthrow of Russian Czarism, the smashup of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, and the breaking-up of the old Turkish Empire, the last remaining strongholds of old world militarism and autocracy came to an end. With the exception of Russia, which is still undergoing the birth pangs of its new regeneration, the leading nations of the world are now under a democratic government, and the peoples of these nations are the true rulers and the arbiters of their own national fate. They, and they alone, can definitely and permanently decide upon national policy. Governments as the creatures of the people, and are controlled, made and un-made by the votes of the people. To an ever increasing degree, too, the women have an equal voice in the determination of the fate of Government and the national policies of their homelands. If the people can make up their minds that there shall be disarmament, that they will no longer pour out their hard won earnings to be used to supply machines of war wherewith to destroy their fellowmen, Governments will, because they must, obey.

There is, however, it must be admitted, a fighting instinct inherent in the whole human race. It is not to be wholly eradicated, nor could it be, for the race as it were, but it is a natural instinct which must be directed onward and overcome seemingly insurmountable obstacles.

The fighting instinct makes so perverted as to result in a striving for mastery of others through the brutal, animal method of destruction—the employment of strong arm methods against the weak.

Again, all the world over, the peoples of nations of all will, leading to the making of wretched preparations by one racial group of people against another? Is it not to be found in the pin-pricking policy which so many people thoughtlessly indulge in at the expense of the people of another race, color or nationality? The people of one country make ridicule of the habits and customs of another. This is resentful and a feeling of animosity which is engendered whereas a mutual recognition of each other's good qualities, which is just as easy of cultivation, would quickly develop a feeling of admiration.

The newspapers of a country quickly reflect the views and feelings of the people among whom they circulate. If there is a pin-pricking tendency among the people of one country which is reflected in the press, a sharp sassing of the press in one land are quickly seized upon by the press in another country, and soon a wordly warfare is on stirring up the passions and prejudices of one nation and people against another, and forever cultivating ill-feeling by raking up all the old quarrels and troubles of bygone ages. Visitors from a foreign country are charmed and have a desire to learn all the customs and ways of another country, but return home entertained by anything but cordial feelings towards the country in which such remarks are uttered. Thus, from comparatively trivial cause, there arise those national misconceptions and distrust of other people, which, when some difference of opinion occurs between two countries, are quickly fanned into a flame and a conflagration of public opinion, which makes it extremely difficult, if not impossible, for the Government of one country to consent to make necessary compromises in order to reach an amicable arrangement. And it is natural, just such contingencies that armaments are developed.

The ordinary citizen, however, does not bring about armament by armament by merely keeping a close stethoscope upon his tongue and by steadfastly refusing to indulge in, what is after all more or less senseless and certainly utterly futile, carp at and criticism of other nations, races and people.

Over Seven Thousand Enter Canada From U.S. in Six Months

A total of 7,110 persons entered Western Canada from the United States during the six months ending June 30, 1911, the latest figures made available by the Canadian Bureau of Statistics, and effects worth $702,453.

Out of the total number of immigrants, 2,600 gave their occupations as farmers, and will engage in agriculture, while 2,000 others gave their occupations as laborers.

To receive a certificate of accreditation a head must pass three and at the end of a year—voilà—another test. So far the work has been confined to pure-bred herds, but there is a likelihood of its being extended, with increased grants for expenditure, to commercial grade herds of dairy cattle.

THE BASSANO MAIL

Leonard D. Nesbitt, Publisher

Subscription $2 a year $2.50 to U. S. A.

WORTHY OF EMULATION

Drought has worked havoc among the farmers in the vicinity of Hanna, as well as in many other localities throughout the west. Hanna businessmen, eager to assist in overcoming this "fifth horseman of the apocalypse", are out to seek remedial measures. The board of trade of that town sent a delegation into the Canadian Pacific Railway irrigation block to investigate artificial watering, with a view to encouraging an irrigation scheme that will affect the Hanna district.

The Mail compliments these businessmen of Hanna for the interest they have taken in the problems of the farmers in their district. They are out to boost a tremendous proposition—the formation of an irrigation scheme the like of which has never been attempted before. The immensity of the proposition does not seem to daunt these men. They have the spirit to overcome obstacles.

Bassano businessmen, were they to co-operate in following the example of Hanna citizens, could render important assistance to the farmers of this locality. The instance of the creamery proposition may be cited. Here are scores of farmers who are, or soon will be, heavy alfalfa producers. They will have to keep dairy cattle to profitably market the fodder they raise. This in turn necessitates a creamery conveniently located.

If Hanna businessmen can afford to spend two or three days and travel several hundred miles by auto to seek information in order to assist and encourage Hanna farmers, Bassano citizens might with a great deal of enthusiasm, tackle the creamery proposition and bring it to some sort of successful conclusion.

AIDING THE CATTLEMAN

There is much activity in governmental Canadian cattle raiser. The federal government to achieve some means of aiding the industry has rendered very important aid in arranging for credits for the feeding of stock. A cattle owner my not borrow from the banks in order to carry his herd through.

The provincial government is gathering information upon which to base further moves calculated to assist the industry, and the agitation for an open British market for Canadian feeders will not be allowed to die. The possibilities of shipping chilled meat has occupied the attention of various interests and the federal government is arranging for shipping to cater to this trade.

It is hoped by this general concentration of action that apparent results will soon be obtained. It is generally recognized that the slump in the cattle industry is but temporary. The important question is, how long before results from the united efforts to alleviate conditions, will be discernible.

The cutting off of the United States market for Canadian feeders was the most serious blow the cattlemen received for a long time. It is inevitable that this market will be again available. But the cattle raisers do not want to be caught in a similar position again, and hope to maintain wider markets for their output, both as beef cattle and feeders.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Indians have now complete command of the coal mine that furnished Bassano citizens with the bulk of their fuel for some years past.

Now comes September, bringing to mind that trite saying about the destination of the summer's wages.

While every one of the Allied Powers are in a turmoil, Germany is industriously sawing wood and saying little. Defeat has some compensations.

The school holidays end on Monday next and the young hopefuls, with well-scrubbed faces, will set off schoolward once again.

Civic pride still runs high in Saskatoon. Not satisfied with the government census, they conducted a local head counting and unearthed 1600 inhabitants the federal census taker seems to have missed.

Hatfield may pride himself as a rainmaker, but there are lots of ordinary folks in Alberta who are continually making a liquid with a great deal more strength than ordinary rainwater.

Premier Greenfield told a delegation that asked him for an auto road through the Yellowhead pass to the coast, that it was more important to give settlers in southern Alberta speedy relief. There was some kick in that statement.

The late Sir Sam Hughes was a great athlete in his younger days and won the Canadian championship for the mile when 24 years of age.

Montreal has a grain congestion, the west has a cattle congestion while Ottawa has a congestion of ideas.

Once the rye growing assumes considerable proportions in Alberta some venture-some person will be called upon to start a distillery. The Mail claims Bassano has certain advantages to claim this town as the location.

A campaign has been started by the negroes for equal civil and social rights with the white throughout the world. This may speed up the southern drawl.

IT USED TO BE

(Blairmore Enterprise) At the local school recently, Principal Conway asked one of his pupils: "If a farmer raises 4700 bushels of wheat and sells it for $2.50 a bushel, what will he get?" The answer came: "An automobile."

BIG CIRCULATION

(Blairmore Enterprise) We challenge the western provinces to show us a town with the same population and with a greater amount of enterprise than is apparent in our town today.

RABBIT FOOT NEEDED

(High River Times) The superstitious might be inclined to account for the poor crops this year, by the fact that the sum of the numbers 1-9-2-1 is 13.

NO REDS THERE

(High River Times) The new Alberta cabinet is one hundred per cent. British every member having been born within the empire. And that is good.

WHY THE EDITOR LEFT TOWN

(Somewhat) The editor of The Brooks Bulletin a few bottles of home brew. The same day he received for publication a wedding announcement and a notice of an auction sale.

Here are the results:

"Wm. Smith and Miss Lucy Anderson were disposed of at auction for $100.00. The bride is a slender girl, five feet four inches, and the groom is a sturdy fellow, six feet one and a half inches tall. They have a fine cluster of roses on her breast and two white calves, before a background of farm implements too numerous to mention in the presence of about seventy guests, including two milch cows, six miles and one bobbed.

Rev. Jackson tied the nuptial knot with 200 feet of hay on one good John Deere gang plow for an extended trip with terms to suit purchasers. They will be at home in six weeks with one good baby boy and a few kitchen utensils after ten months from date of sale to responsible parties and some fifty chickens.

SCOTCH WHISKEY AND SCOTCH LAWYERS

(Strathmore Standard) D Struan Sutherland, barrister, of Empress, passed here on Friday on his way to Baffin, where he is spending 2 weeks honeymoon. His wife and family have gone by train while he is tasting the joys of motoring. Mr. Sutherland is the same sahurious spot that a native of Rothesay, Scotland, the editor of this journal hails from. He is a scion of a well known family that has given to Scotland if it wasn't for Scotland. Probably if there was not so much Scotch whisky in the country we would not need so many Scotch lawyers. There aren't so many lawyers either, but it is because the editor gives his advice free while the lawyers charge for their's.

The Mail regrets to learn that the provincial government has cancelled all road work in this district. This includes the work undertaken during the past year in unorganized as well as organized districts. In some cases work which up to the present is by no means completed must now be stopped and the authorizations already granted cannot carry the proposed work to completion. A large amount of work was laid out for this season in this district and it is to be hoped that the new administration at Edmonton has not decided to permanently stop the work at a time when much needed.

MILLINERY--

Never before have the ladies of this district had such a versatile display of Fall Hats to select from. Mrs. Hyslop is returning from the coast where she has visited the advance openings and worked in work rooms where only the "New" is tolerated.

Hats in velvet, duxetyn, felt, silk panne and leather in charming array will portray the advanced idea for the season's wear.

Novel usages of feathers, plumes, silk fringes and tassels, hand-made flowers and metallic fabrics make the compliment to some of the most charming examples of millinery art.
